The upper level of Ramsey Library is now home to the departments of Psychology and Management & Accountancy because of construction. Due to this, the upper level is no longer designated as a “quiet floor”. Spaces highlighted in green on our map are areas identified by our staff as “quiet areas”. These areas typically have quiet seating for individual study and are located on all three levels.